

Here Comes Everybody

Sentences that make you think again

It's strange how cream cheese is more difficult to get off of a knife than blood. Tatum Barnaby

Once I fell in love without an exit strategy so here I am still in love. Mike Nadler

*Chelmno— Sobibor— Belzec— Majdenec— Treblinka—
Bergen-Belsen— Dachau—
Buchenwald/Auschwitz/Birkenau* Charles Eaton

Do you kill the characters when you close a book? Ciara Macfarland

Don't blind yourself just to avoid the obvious. Lily Gates

Gravity is where you jump up in the air and the earth follows you. Adam Bethel

I had a childhood among trees—huge friends, rough but supportive. Dean Jacoby

I'm dying slowly and living quickly. Kelli O'Brien

Blue skies touched our hearts, and green leaves our souls, until we were lost for good. Bryn Frye-Mason

I'm fragile but that doesn't mean I'm afraid of being broken. Ingrid Hartzell-Gallegos

I'm homesick for a place I'm not sure exists. Emma Easom

I've kissed more noses of dogs than I have lips of boys. Magdalena Ramos Mullane

If only binary were a more poetic language Jason Zuffranieri

If you want your child to be a doctor, send them to art school. Elijah Vigil-Frazier

Mommy, I think there is a computer in my tummy. Quinn Johnson (4 years old)

My father is chasing memory into a locked room, and he's not coming back. Marnie Bethel

If the sun never set, when would the owls come out? Garrett Frye-Mason

Now Opening: Secondhand Coffin Shop. Gavin Epstein

One needs to be careful that affect does not become effect. Don Smith

The journey makes this rock a place to rest— so too the moon. Hugh Himwich

There are lemons in the apple tree. Randall Smith

Though the fire burns at first, what hurts most is when it dims. Josiah Williams

Truth is to factual as synonym is to cinnamon. Bryce Gordon

What is goose for the geese, is fleece for the flounder. John E. DuBois

Whatever you're thinking when you're reading is the reading. Eric Knutson

Why is it that we give ourselves less permission to learn than we do to know? Ilana Vogenthaler

Time waits for no man, but slows down for a woman. Susan Ontiveros

The dog sneezes, the cloud spits. Jeanne Frye-Mason

If only these things I do were things only I do. Jon Sturgess

These sentences are part of a much larger collection. You can pick up a copy of this collection at the front desk of Simms Library or from Mr. Himwich, the sponsor of "Here Comes Everybody".